

ONE OR THE OTHER

Will Be a Heavyweight Champion Tonight

THE ODDS UNCHANGED

Ruhlin, Though, is Confident of Winning the Belt and Jeffries is Sure of Solidifying His Title to It in the Tenth or Twelfth Round. Ministers' Effort to Stop the Fight.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—With the Jeffries-Ruhlin championship fight but twenty-four hours away, interest is keyed up to the highest pitch and the sounding of the gong that will bring the Los Angeles boxer and the Akron giant together is awaited with feverish anxiety. All day long enthusiasts have flocked into the city from various points and the sale of choice seats has already run its length. It is evident that Mechanics' pavilion, where the struggle will take place, will be taxed to its utmost capacity and that fully 10,000 persons will witness the big event.

A group of ministers of the gospel has been striving all day to induce the authorities to interfere and stop the mill, but they have received no encouragement. Tonight they paid their respects to Mayor James D. Phelan and received the same information which was imparted to them by District Attorney Byington and Chief of Detectives Seymour. In other words they have been apprised of the fact that while the state law prohibits prize fighting, a local ordinance countenances boxing exhibitions held under the auspices of incorporated clubs and that the latter measure precludes all possibility of the city fathers stopping the fight at this juncture. The police, if they believe the mill to be brutal and therefore beyond the pale of legitimate exhibition with gloves, may enter the ring and stop the bout.

Jeffries remains the favorite at odds of ten to four. Myriads of lights have been placed above the ring for the taking of kinetoscope pictures of the fight. Both men have been assured that the heat from the lights will not be so intense as was the case at Coney island, when Jeffries and Sharkey fought. Gus Ruhlin spent the day in inactivity and quiet speculation. He was in close consultation with Billy Madden several times during the day and has been filling up with parting shafts of sound advice from his manager. The Akron fighter ate a hearty breakfast, took a long stroll along the ocean beach in the morning and played cards a portion of the afternoon. He chatted with friends and whiled away the hours in perfect ease with apparent assurance that he would soon ascend to the championship.

Jeffries was a trifle more active, but his exertions were provoked in the main by the demands made upon him by admiring friends with whom he walked and talked during the long afternoon. The training ordeal is at an end and the trainers of both fighters are anxious now to simply keep their men from getting a trifle stale or possibly mentally depressed. Jeffries is full of life and smilingly declares that he will beat Ruhlin along about the tenth or twelfth round. But few bets have changed hands today, and in all known instances Jeffries was on the short end and riding at even better odds than yesterday.

CANALS AND CABLES

Mr. Hepburn Has a Talk With the President.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Representative Hepburn of Iowa, chairman of the interstate commerce commission of the house, and Representative Sherman of New York, a member of the same committee, had a long conference with the president today about the isthmian canal and the Pacific cable legislation. As a result of the consultation they announced their purpose to press legislation on both of the subjects at the earliest possible moment.

The canal bill which passed the house at the last session of congress will be introduced in substantially the form in which it was passed last winter. No delay is anticipated in the committee, as the whole subject has been canvassed thoroughly.

Colonel Hepburn told the president that the bill undoubtedly would have a large majority in the house. The cable bill will be identical with the one reported from the committee during the last congress. It provides for the laying of a cable by a private corporation under contract with the postmaster general, with an alternative provision for the building of a cable by the government. If no satisfactory contract can be made, it is understood that the president concurred in the proposed programme.

HOBART'S MAUSOLEUM.

Wife of Late Vice President Building Granite and Marble Doric Temple. Paterson, N. J., Nov. 14.—A beautiful mausoleum is being built at Cedar Lawn by Mrs. Garrett A. Hobart for her husband, the late vice president. It is in the form of a Doric temple, solid and massive, free from ornamentation and a pure example of Greek architecture. It will be 29 feet wide and 44 feet deep, with portico front and rear. It will rise 22 feet from the ground. The material is granite. The front and rear roofs of the porticoes will be supported by four columns. The entrance will be through double bronze doors.

The entire structure will be lined entirely with marble and will have floor and ceiling of the same material. A sarcophagus of marble to contain the body of the late vice president, fashioned from a solid block of marble, will rest in the center of the vault. The late president McKinley and Mrs. McKinley approved the plans.

THE UTAH EARTHQUAKE.

Estimate of Damage Caused in a Half Minute.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 14.—A Herald special from Richfield, Sevier county, states that the damage to property in that county from last night's earthquake will amount to almost $100,000. Scarcely a building escaped damage at Richfield. The Mormon tabernacle at Richfield was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

Many landslides have occurred. At Marysville the entire population left their homes after the first shock, built bonfires in the streets and camped out all night.

A MURDERER HANGED.

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 15.—Joseph D. Keith was hanged at 12:10 this morning (Friday) for the murder of Miss Nora Kiefer, April 2.

BRITISH GALES

Futile Attempt to Grasp the Disasters of the Week.

London, Nov. 14.—It is still impossible to estimate with any exactness the total loss of life and property resulting from the protracted gale. Probably the full extent of the damage will never be known. Much wreckage of unidentified vessels is still being thrown up.

Altogether it is known that some fifty vessels have been wrecked along the British coasts. Thirty-four of these have been totally wrecked, including the Yarmouth lifeboat disaster alone leaves forty-four fatherless children.

A winter cold snap has followed the terrible gale, which has subsided, while a blizzard which is raging over Scandinavia is expected to strike the shores of Great Britain on Friday. Yesterday a heavy snow fell in Scotland and generally throughout the United Kingdom.

A FATAL MINE FIRE.

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 14.—Five dead bodies have been taken out, several other persons unaccounted for, and twenty-five severely burned as the result of a fire in a mine at Potomac. The fire broke out at 3 o'clock in the morning and an explosion followed soon afterwards. It is supposed that the fire originated from an electric wire. The fire is still raging.

ASTRONOMERS BUSY

Watching the Creation of a New Planet System.

About two years ago the astronomy sharps of the country announced that there would be a grand meteoric demonstration in the neighborhood of the constellation Leonis along about November 14. The heavenly pyrotechnics did not live up to the advance notice and the astronomers were given another guess.

The Leonids, which is the popular name for a group of heavenly bodies, presumably what is left of a bankrupt planet, have an orbit around the sun which takes about thirty-three years to complete. In other words, about once in thirty-three years this bunch of planet fragments gets into a part of the heavens where the little meteors in their flight from the larger bodies make a particularly fine show on earth.

After the failure two years ago the astronomers picked over again and said the meteoric display would occur in 1901. It was due to arrive last night, but so far as heard from nothing unusual was witnessed in these parts. Much more interesting, however, at least to those who have access to a good telescope, is the drama going on in Persseus, where the new star discovered less than a year ago has been caught in the act of creating a new solar system. This new star after its discovery grew brighter and brighter for some time, then began to fade till it was hardly visible even to the trained eye, and only a few days ago an astronomer at the Lick observatory announced that the star had become a nebular mass that is flying through space at a speed never witnessed before by astronomers of the present day.

The nebular theory, as explained last night by one versed in things celestial, assumes first that there is a rotary motion of some degree of speed in all heavenly bodies. The sun, not our sun necessarily, but any sun in the act of begetting a world system, is first contracted by cohesive forces to such an extent that a reaction takes place and in the reaction or expansion, proportionately small bodies are thrown out into space, though of course not beyond the influence of the mother sun. That influence limits the distance to which they may go and they naturally form an orbit around the sun. It is this process that it is believed the astronomers are now watching so intently and in the course of a few billion years these new planets may be cool enough to raise a crop of alfalfa on.

DEAD AT THE JUNCTION.

Osage City, Kan., Nov. 14.—Roy Ream, an engine wiper, was killed and Fred Slusher, a Santa Fe fireman, was fatally injured here tonight by a collision between a Santa Fe passenger train and a Missouri Pacific freight train. The wreck occurred at the junction of the two roads and was caused by the engineer's failing to stop and whistle. No passengers were hurt.

THE PROFFIT MURDER

Witnesses From This County Subpoenaed to Prescott. Sheriff J. L. Munds of Yavapai county, who has been in the valley since last Sunday subpoenaing witnesses for the term of court which will shortly be convened at Prescott, left for home this morning. He returned late yesterday evening from the Buckeye country, where he had gone after witnesses in the Proffitt murder case. Bruce Proffitt, a miner employed at Big Bug, was waylaid one Sunday, shot and killed while on his way to work. There was no suspicion immediately as to the identity of the assassin, for, so far as was known, Proffitt was without an enemy in the country.

A few days after the murder a man named Tom Powlas was arrested on suspicion of being the assassin and still another man was suspected. It was learned that Powlas was on more or less friendly terms with the wife of Proffitt, who had gone to California, and that he had been sending her money. Having been assured that her relations with her husband had been permanently severed, Powlas, it appeared, had afterward learned that the woman was still on friendly terms with her husband. Powlas even suspected that Proffitt had been made a beneficiary of his generosity, which had been intended only for the woman. This was supposed to be the motive and, so far as is known, there is no other evidence, even if that supposition may be called evidence.

Proffitt was a Rough Rider, a member of B troop from this territory. On his return from Cuba he came to Phoenix and was at one time employed on the ranch of O. H. Christy and was in some way mixed up with a horse stealing case. Before that he had lived in the Buckeye country, where he married his wife in contravention of the laws of this territory, for she was a person of African descent. She was a very comely colored woman and already had several children of doubtful parentage on the paternal side. The license was procured by a colored man, who said that the prospective bride was also colored, thus quieting any suspicions that the probate court might have been seized of. It is presumed that the officiating clergyman or other officer who performed the ceremony was colored. The miscegenation was shortly afterward discovered, but the authorities made no trouble about it.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE

WORD TO BULGARIA.

Constantinople, Nov. 14.—In view of the obstacles placed in the way of Consul General Dickinson by the Bulgarian authorities regarding the ransom of Miss Stone, Spencer Eddy, the secretary of the legation, visited Gueschoff, the Bulgarian agent, and made a strong representation to him, which he urged Gueschoff to telegraph his government to end the present state of affairs in the interest of a speedy settlement of the matter.

A GREAT GOLD MINE

A Report by an Expert Upon Thunder Mountain.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 14.—According to Prof. E. A. Meade, the geological expert, who spent the day at Thunder Mountain in the district of Idaho investigating for the Oregon Short Line railway reports concerning the richness of gold deposits there, the district is one of the richest that has ever been opened. Professor Meade followed the mountain for about 300 feet in one direction and 400 feet in a general way at right angles to the other. He could find no ends or top or bottom to the body.

Running through the main body is a vein four feet thick of free milling ore that is literally plastered with gold which will run into the thousands in value. Professor Meade said there appeared to be a great reef of gold bearing material running through the country. The main body of the ore of Thunder Mountain, according to Professor Meade, will probably run as low in value as $7 to $10 to the ton, but it is in such quantities that it can literally be quarried out.

MEETING OF GOVERNORS

In a Motion to Quash the Molineux Indictment.

New York, Nov. 14.—Two former New York governors, David B. Hill and Frank S. Black, met in argument today in the court of general sessions on a motion to quash an indictment charging Roland B. Molineux with the murder, by mailed poison, of Mrs. Katherine Adams. Molineux was once convicted and sentenced to death, but the court of appeals gave him a new trial for error on the part of the trial court. Hill appeared for the prosecution in behalf of the state, while Black was joined with other notable counsel for the defense. A great crowd attended the court, owing to the interest the case had aroused and the prominence of the Molineux family.

Gen. Edward Molineux, father of the prisoner, appeared in court, accompanied by Gen. Horace T. King. Senator Hill reviewed the evidence submitted to the grand jury and of it said: "The motive was established. The poison was established. The death was established. The murder was established and the crime was established."

Madrid, Nov. 14.—The judge who is investigating the alleged forgeries in the register of the Church of San Milan, in connection with the claim of Henry Sackville West, who has brought suit in the courts here to prove that he is the legitimate son and heir of Lord Sackville, a British nobleman, has committed the ex-convict of the registry to prison because experts found that his writing markedly resembles the suspected entries. Hill was refused. The judge made the accusation, which he stated from dictation, whereupon he became agitated and varied the formation of his letters.

TO CUT WAR TAXES

Representative Payne Will Prepare a Bill

The Evils of the Surplus Revenue to be Checked by a Reduction of Internal Taxes, and not by Tariff Revision.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Representative Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, has announced that he will introduce a bill to repeal all the war taxes imposed by the law passed three years ago. Mr. Payne has returned home to prepare this bill. He is following the advice of Secretary Gage and has the consent of the president. This action is understood to mean that there will be no attempt at a revision of the tariff schedules during the next session of congress, but that instead a reduction of the revenue will be made by cutting down the internal taxes. It is Mr. Payne's idea to cut the income of the treasury at least $70,000,000 and probably $80,000,000.

One of the principal cuts will be the reduction of the beer tax to $1 a barrel, the return of the tax on the Spanish war, the Spanish war, the brewers are demanding that it be put down 55 cents, which may be done if the cut of other taxes does not reduce the revenues enough. The idea is to reduce the tax on whiskey from $1.29 a gallon to at least 90 cents, and possibly to 80 or 70 cents. Tobacco will go from 2 to 6 cents, and all miscellaneous taxes, those on secret formula proprietary medicines and the like, are scheduled for repeal.

At a conference between Mr. Payne and Secretary Gage the latter by reference to books and reports, showed that the government's surplus, if the present rate of income keeps up, will be no less than $120,000,000 at the end of this fiscal year, June 30, 1902, and that, added to the surplus of the year before, will make a collection of $210,000,000 more than needed. After this interview Mr. Payne and Representative Steele had a talk with the president.

It is said that a few of the war taxes will be allowed to remain, particularly the tax on the bucket shop.

GENERAL HALL RETIRED.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Brigadier General Robert B. Hall will be placed on the retired list of the army tomorrow by the operation of the law on account of age. Omaha, Neb., Nov. 14.—James Callahan one of the alleged kidnapers of Edward Cudahy and companion of Pat Crowe in the desperate undertaking which resulted in the millionaire banker paying $25,000 in gold for the return of his boy, was acquitted of the charge of perjury tonight and is at liberty. Callahan had been in jail since he was arrested a month after the crime. His first trial resulted in acquittal, but he was immediately arrested, charged with perjury, and it was of this charge that he was finally acquitted tonight.

Callahan's lawyers are preparing a damage suit for $100,000 against Mr. Cudahy.

Chico, Cal., Nov. 14.—A lone highwayman attempted to hold up the Chico and West Branch stage at a point twenty miles from here this afternoon. As the stage was going up hill a man disguised with gunny sacks stepped out and ordered the driver to throw out the express box. Driver Finchley immediately opened fire with a revolver. The robber returned the fire, but after emptying his revolver turned and ran. A bullet from Finchley's revolver struck him in the right arm, causing him to drop his revolver. He regained it with his left hand and fled into the brush.

COURT MARTIAL DEFERRED.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Today's wedding of trial of Colonel Robert L. Meade of the marine corps, which was to have commenced today at the New York navy yard, has been deferred a week. The postponement is due to the desire of the navy department to have more time to which to obtain evidence in the case.

GOLD, NOT HAYSEED, IN HIS HAIR.

Here's a Wonderful Tale of a Barber, a Miner and a Mine.

Leadville, Colo., Nov. 14.—James McCormack, who has recently located a placer in Summit county, Colorado, is the son of a California pioneer and himself an Argonaut with a wonderful story. While on his way east a few weeks ago Mr. McCormack stood in a Leadville barber shop and the barber, he says, found gold in his hair. He had been in the habit of washing in a stream, but turbulent mountain stream and the oil of his hair acted as a natural amalgam.

Mr. McCormack postponed his eastern trip and returned to the stream of golden sands to investigate. He located a placer and says it is worth from $150,000 to $200,000.

LIGHT FROM WATER

The Company's Line of Transmission is Finished.

The Phoenix Electric Light company's line of power transmission from the company's dam on the personal supervision of A. C. Dodge. Thirty-three men have been employed on the line since about the middle of last June. It carries three transmission wires, No. 6 bare copper insulated with porcelain, and two telephone wires. The plant is twenty-four miles northeast of the city, so that 125 miles of wire have been strung. The poles have been placed 150 feet apart, much less than the distance from each other of telegraph poles.

There is a water fall of 25 feet and with the turbine which will be used 800 horsepower will be generated. One hundred horsepower of this energy will be lost in transmission. Practically all the machinery required at the plant is now on the ground with the exception of the dynamo. Contrary to the general understanding, the city plant will be improved, and among the other improvements will be a great storage battery, which will be supplied by the water power.

These men six may be considered representatives of the Great Northern interests, three represent the interests of J. P. Morgan & Co. and three more stand for the Harriman interests. Two are distinctly representatives of the Northern Pacific railway and the remaining director, Samuel Thorne, was president of the Pennsylvania Coal company, which now belongs to the Pennsylvania railroad, is regarded as representing eastern interests.
